Hello,

As an AIA member, you are a member of the largest, most influential network of architects and design professionals—a group of almost 100,000 members who share your passion for design and desire to change the world.

AIA Membership connects you with resources in key practice areas and provides you access to experts in your local architecture community through your chapter. It also comes with exclusive benefits like industry-best continuing education, advocacy wins that safeguard our profession, member only special pricing on events, and use of the internationally recognized AIA designation.

AIA Membership provides you unique and unparalleled support for your career, your practice, and the architecture profession that allows you to focus on what you do best: Designing a better world. Stay connected to it all—renew your membership for 2025.
